COMMANDER'S CORNER

Dear Fellow Veterans,

Summer has arrived, it's safe to say that it is not a cool summer, I believe that the frost should be out of everybody's joints by the 4th of July. I hope that everyone is doing well and is able to get out and enjoy your favorite summertime activities. Your Chapter is doing well with the clothing program, medical equipment distribution, and helping Veterans in need.

Our annual summer picnic will be held on August 26 from 1 pm to 3pm. Please sign up at Chapter Headquarters or by contacting Darrel or myself so we know how much food to order.

The Chapter purchased 3 more clothing bins from another Chapter. We will now be able to swap out bins that need maintenance and maybe add a bin or two to our collection points.

If you are interested in any of the DAV State or other Chapter activities like Lake of the Woods Houseboat trip, drive in Fishing to Canada, Chapter 38 camper use in Park Rapids, etc. get ahold of your Chapter for more info.

I hope you all have a great summer and I hope to see you at the summer picnic.

Gene Schwantes

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

There are passages of scripture that at first seem harsh and out of character with God. It is kind of like hearing a sound bite from the news without being informed of its context or issues surrounding the statement. This seems to always occur in an election cycle and can happen in our own lives when people apply their own preconceived ideas before knowing the facts or the character of the person making the statement. Deuteronomy 7:1-2 and 20:16-18 are like this. Yet, scriptures always show mercy comes before judgment, God always warns through love, and encourages repentance before the implementation of the destruction to take place later. An example of this includes the Canaanites and Amorites too. Although many people only read the instructions to Israel without recognizing the events and context occurring in the background. We first need to find out where the Canaanites came from and the events surrounding them. We first find out about them through Canaan, a relative of Noah, so the story really begins with Noah, the condition of humanity during his time, the flood, and the events after the flood. Canaan was born after the flood and was a relative of Noah (Gen 10). Canaan was cursed by Noah because of what he had done to Noah. We are not specifically told what Canaan did to Noah, but definitely not good. Canaan later settles in Canaan land (modern day Israel) where they become known as the Canaanites. The Amorites, Jebusites, and others were the descendants of Canaan (Gen 10:15-18), some of whom God would mention to Abram (who was later renamed Abraham) in a prophecy. They continue to sin, getting worse in the future with infanticide (Lev 18-20).

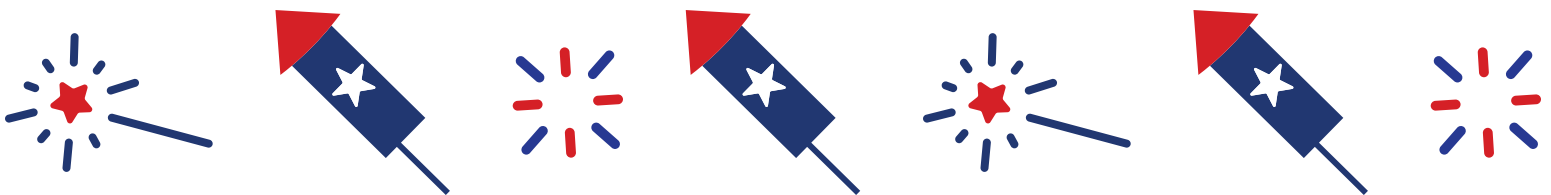

When God Speaks to Abram, God mentions His foreign policy (Gen 12:1-4), if people would bless Abram then they in turn would be blessed, or if they curse Abram then they in turn would be cursed. So, something happened, is presently going on, or will shortly occur, which actually has future consequences (See Jesus in John 8:31-59).

This is interesting because God mentions events (Gen 15:13-16) to Abram that will literally take hundreds of years to complete (vs. 13), which we know today involves the relocation of Israel into Egypt, oppression, The Exodus, and a later return back to Canaan because 'the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full' (Gen 15:16 KJV). Notice these versus (vs. 13-16) give a glimpse into God's purpose and covers a time frame from Genesis all the way through Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy, and Joshua.

This brings up several questions:

- 1) Could God have been dealing with the Amorites with time and mercy regarding their repentance just like He would later deal with the people of Nineveh in the Book of Jonah?
- 2) We know the people of Nineveh repented (Matt 12:41, note the future ramifications of this), so does this mean the Amorites and Canaanites did not repent?
- 3) Therefore, was God using Israel to carry out His judgment against them? If this is the case, where in the Bible does it refer to God warning them (Canaanites, Amorites, etc) of their imminent destruction and is there any mercy in connection with this?
- 4) Where does it mention God informing Israel to carry out such a judgment? Mercy, warnings, destruction, and instructions can all be found in the events occurring of Jericho, which was located in Canaan (Josh 2:8-13). Rahab was a descendant of Canaan, had faith (Hebrews 11:31), and was shown mercy (ref: Gen 12:1-5). Therefore, at the time this occurs in Jericho, wasn't God showing mercy prior to Israel showing them no mercy (Moses: Deut 7:1-2; 20:16-18)? God warns Israel not to adopt the same practices of the Canaanites, or else He would have to judge them too (Lev 18:28)!
